The fifth annual picnic given by the Eastern Nebraska Logrolling association of the Modern Woodmen of America, will occur in Lincoln on next Thursday. The association, which includes the territory covered by the old First Congressional district, is endeavoring to make the picnic the most successful of those given, and their efforts are ably supported by the members of the Lincoln lodges, which have taken hold of the matter with a will. The picnic was held at Courtland beach in this city last year and was a great success.

Another secret order has entered, or is about to enter, the local field to compete with the orders that are already well established in the city. This is the Fraternal Mystic Circle, an order which claims to be founded upon friendship, mercy, charity justice, equity and economy. Its head quarters are in Philadelphia. While it is still young in years, it has succeeded in rolling up a membership of over 20,000, the greater portion of which is in the central states. It has paid out in death benefits $800,000 and has now a surplus benefit fund of over $100,000. of over $100,000.

The order is founded on the lines of others The program that has been arranged for the occasion consists of an address of wel-

The decision given by Judge Brentano in the superior court of Chicago to the effect that German-speaking lodges of the Knights that German-speaking lodges of the Knights of Pythias may use a ritual printed in the German language, has attracted much attention throughout secret society circles, and particularly among Knights of Pythias. The latter, however, are confident that the decision will be reversed by the supreme court. The trouble began when the supreme lodge of the order passed a provision to the effect. The Improved Order of Heptosophs is steadily gaining ground in the city. Dur-ing the last few weeks a large number of The trouble began when the supreme lodge of the order passed a provision to the effect that the ritual should be printed only in the English language. The passage of this provision was very distasteful to German-speaking lodges, and created a great deal of strife and contention. It was, however, except in a few cases, universally obeyed. One of the disobedient lodges was Waldeck lodge of Chicago, which had a membership of 100. garding the ritual or to get out of order.

The local knights also have a rebellious lodge on their hands. This is Forest lodge, No. 84, which was restrained several days ago by Judge Scott from expending what money it has now in the treasury. This is also a case of a violation of rules. It has precedents which have been decided in favor of the order, notably one in the New York Jurisdiction, which was exactly similar.

It appears that several months ago members of other lodges discovered that Forest lodge was admitting members for $10. This was in direct violation of the rule which provides that the admittance fee shall be $20. It was also found that in order to boom the membership, candidates who were not of the required character were being admitted. This was brought to the attention of the grand chancellor. An investigation was made, and the reported condition of affairs was found to be true. Thinking to get off more easily, the lodge pleaded guilty to the charges that were brought against it. It was thereupon suspended on July 18, the suspension to remain in effect until the session of the grand lodge, which convenes during the early part of October.

By the order of suspension the lodge was prevented from taking any money from the reasury, which at that time contained in the neighborhood of $250. Despite the order, however, the monsy has been used for paying bills and expenses, and it has also been found that secret meetings have been held. As soon as these facts were discovered the lodge was restrained from using any more money from the treasury. Goodrich lodge No. 144, Independent Ordez of Odd Fellows, held a very interesting meet-ing at its hall in the Continental block Saturday evening, August 10. Among other mat-ters of business transacted it decided to give an entertainment and dance on the las saturday evening of each month. The enter-tainments will begin at 8 o'clock p. m. and conclude at 9 p. m.. Dancing will immedi-ately follow until 12 p. m. Everybody is invited and the small admission fee should insure a large gathering.

Omaba tribe No. 18, Independent Order of Red Men, was surprised by the squaws of White Fawn council No. 9 Friday sleep. They captured the outer post and threw out their pickets, so that no Indian could escape. It was amusing to see now and then an Indian head protruding from behind the inner wall, looking for some way of escape, but escape was impossible. They were completely, hemmed in. The only terms of peace were to bring forth the slaughtered buck, corn cake and frozen cream that was laid away for a stag party. The Indians most reluctantly, brought forth these supplies and had a great feast. After midsun the Indians and squaws departed for their wigwams and topees, feel-ing highly elated over the pleasant and friendly feeling that exists between council
